The FORD CO. GLOBE, Established 1877. (Consolidated, 1899.)

TWENTY-SIXTH YEAR, VOL. XXV, NO. 52.

SIZES UP THE SITUATION

Gomer Davies, Who Was the Stauncheast of Populists,
Tells How to "Do Right" in Politics.

The Kansan will support Mr. Roosevelt rather than any Democrat now on the political stage of action. The Kansan will support Mr. Roosevelt's administration and its editor will vote for candidates who will sustain him. Populists who are actuated by something other than the one motive of "beating the Republicans," or getting an office may well sustain President Roosevelt. He is the ideal president. He has the courage of his convictions and has not hesitated to take the corporations by the throat and make them obey the law and the will of the people.

With Theodore Roosevelt retained in his high office, and sustained and supported by a congress in harmony with his administration, we have the assurance that the evil of trust domination will find a sure and lawful solution.

Firm in that belief, and mindful of the history of the former rule of Democracy, it is mighty easy for us to decide as to our future political duty. Count us with President Roosevelt and the Republican party.

We became a Populist because we thought the Republican party too conservative on the money question. We thought the battle would not be settled until it was settled as we believed it should be—we were wrong. That issue is dead. It would be as consistent for our brothers in Alabama to reorganize the Confederacy as for us to attempt to rally the voters with the slogan of "16 to 1." That has been passed upon in two national campaigns—that is enough. The campaign managers of the Democratic party stole our thunder for the purpose of an effort to get the offices. Anything to beat the Republicans is Democracy. That is not our nature. We are FOR things. We do not want to waste all our time on earth fighting men who do things. Feeling that way about it, we cannot reconcile ourselves to the idea of assisting the leaders of the Populist party in decoying voters into such an organization as the Democratic party will be in the campaign of 1904. If we should attempt it we would be rewarded with the just contempt of the Democrats, and the disgust of our former political friends, the Republicans. Why this does not apply to every other man, who has viewed these matters as we do, we cannot understand.

As between belonging to a party whose rallying cries are "we deprecate," "we deplore," "we denounce," "we are opposed," and belonging to a party that says "we believe," "we hope," "we will," The Kansan chooses the latter.

We have the bugaboo flaunted in our face that we are endorsing the policy of the government in the Philippines. Maybe, but in a fight we want to be in a position to glorify American valor on every field and in every battle. When the flag is under fire we are for the administration and the boys who defend it, trusting that they are right in the matter of policy, but right or wrong, we will shout "bully boys," as long as the firing shall last—we'll take up the matter of "policy" when the battle is over.

When we left the Republican party there was no war in which the nation was engaged. We honestly believed that a colonial policy is wrong for this country, but that is no reason why we want to be eternally opposed, for partisan purposes, to the administration which is trying to defend our flag wherever it floats. When our soldiers win a battle and the stars and stripes of old glory gleam brighter in the silvery skies of heaven, because of it, we want to shout—and we'll be daddled if we won't shout—even though Tillman and Carmack should both take a fit. The Democracy of Cleveland and the Republicanism of Roosevelt will be the opposing political forces in the campaign of 1904—Bryan or Bryanism will not be in it, in our opinion. As between the man who hauled down the flag in Honolulu and the man who raised it at Santiago, we are for the man who raised it. As between following the leadership of Cleveland, who sent a substitute to the defense of his country, and Roosevelt, who led a regiment up the bloody slopes of San Juan Hill midst a storm of leaden hail, we are for Roosevelt. You say that is sentiment? Well, we are for that sort of sentiment in politics.

Cleveland may not be the candidate, but Clevelandism will be in the Democratic saddle in 1904. Believing as we do, on such matters, we cannot consistently join such forces without committing political harlotry—we shall not do it.

We get especial satisfaction in saying that we shall support the candidacy of W. J. Bailey for governor of Kansas. The editor of this paper has known him well for years, and knows him to be a man of sterling worth, of unquestioned integrity—in business and public affairs—and that he has breadth of intellect sufficient to meet the requirements of the office he seeks. He is familiar with every need of the people of Kansas and is conscious of the fact that if he is to measure up to the full standard of the requirements of governor he will have to harp on more than one string.

We are told that we are making a business mistake, a financial loss in business. That, very likely, is true; but the editor of The Kansan would prefer to die in the ditch a beggar with a ray of hope for the future of his country beaming from a clear and cloudless sky for his reward, rather than to belong to a party whose mission on earth is to becloud and befog the minds of the people with pictures of unwarranted misery and unknown conditions of despair.—Concordia Kansan.

CIMARRON WILL HAVE NEW BANK.

A new bank will be incorporated in Cimarron as soon as the necessary requirements of the law can be met. It will be known as the Citizens State Bank of Cimarron. The following are the incorporators: A. D. Wetteck, J. A. Evans, Mrs. M. M. Evans, F. M. Luther and M. A. Granger. There will be other stockholders. The officers have not been elected, but it is understood that A. D. Wetteck will be the president, and M. A. Granger cashier. The money is ready and the opening will take place as soon as the necessary printed supplies are obtained and the official approval of the state bank commissioner has been declared. This will be the strongest banking institution this county has ever had.—Jacksonian.

Mrs. Wells and daughter, Miss Gertrude, will leave Sunday for Kansas City where they will attend the carnival, before going to visit relatives at St. Louis.

The Civic Improvement club will meet Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Christian church.

"MY UNCLE" COMING.

Good Show Billed for Opera House Next Week.

At Gluck's Opera House, here next Wednesday evening "My Uncle From New York" will be presented. It is a play which has had a great success, and which will no doubt pack the house here. The Oklahoma State Capital says of this company's performance at Guthrie.

"My Uncle from New York" was played to a good house here last evening, despite the wet, disagreeable weather. The piece is catchy, was well produced and met with the approval of the audience. It abounds in first class specialties that are entertaining and novel.

The company is composed of ten artists direct from New York, who have won many laurels in the profession. It is headed by the clever character actor, Mr. Geo. F. Clark and Miss Marjorie Mason, whose rich soprano voice is a treat not to be overlooked. A specially engaged feature is the "New York Comedy Four Quartette," who have just finished a twenty four weeks' engagement in vaudeville. Other features are Mr. Jack Prescott, tenor; Mr. Edward C. Hickman, baritone; Mr. Francis J. Mc-Carthy and Mr. Marvin Nye in songs and dances and Miss Madeline Turner, the original "Dutch Girl." Miss Rose Sweetman, pianist.

If there is such a thing as a hoo-loo it has been following the Stubbs Brothers' horses this year. At the beginning of the season they took four promising young thoroughbreds to St. Louis. One was the three year old filly "Wakita," that had won $3700 as a two year old. The others were "Clate Bell," a fine two year old, "Oyessa" and Pettijohn. The prospects for all four of these horses were very bright. Wakita showed three-quarter in 13½ and won $800 as a starter. She was looked upon as the best filly in St. Louis and some of the big horsemen were wiring in large offers for her. She was killed in a race just at the start of the season. "Clate Bell," fully as fast as Wakita had a leg broken. "Oyessa" from some unaccountable reason died. Pettijohn was hurt badly but recovered and was the only one of the four to reach home. From first to last during the season bad luck followed the Stubbs horses. Ed Stubbs who was with the horses at St. Louis arrived home last week and will go to New Orleans in November. The Stubbs Brothers have a nice string of thoroughbred colts coming on and will probably make up for this season's bad luck at some other time.

HON. I. E. LAMBERT

Will Speak at the Opera House Here October 17.

Hon. I. E. Lambert, one of the best speakers in the west, will speak at the opera house in Dodge City on the evening of October 17. This will be one of the best meetings in western Kansas during the present campaign and should be attended by everyone in Ford county.

Lease is Granted.

At its meeting held last night the city council granted the lease to the fair grounds to the fair association. There was considerable discussion over the terms of the lease, and while all were in favor of leasing the grounds to the association the vote on granting the lease as drawn stood four to four. Mayor Hoover cast the deciding vote in favor of granting the lease as it stood. The difference of opinion was in reality only a trifling one, and all grew out of both sides trying to cover points which might possibly come up. With the whole town interested in the success of the fair meetings there is no likelihood of the association being handicapped at any time by the council. On the other hand the association with $5,000 of its own money at stake and its only interest to improve the park and benefit the town there is no way in which the association is likely to embarrass the council. The vote on granting the lease was as follows. For: Simpson, Madden, Stubbs, Gluck, Hoover. Against: Mootz, Pettillon, Smith and French. The latter wanted a slight change made in the wording of the lease.

RUSSELL RECEIVER.

Cimarron Bank is a Mixed Up Affair. May be Little Shortage.

Assistant Attorney General Clad Hamilton, upon the report of the deputy bank examiner, made application last week for a receiver for the Cimarron bank. Judge Madison went to Cimarron on Friday and appointed Mr. A. Russell of this city, who has given bond in the sum of $40,000, and has begun the work of settling up the affairs of the bank. Mr. L. G. Grobety was appointed accountant.

Regarding the bank's affairs the Cimarron Jacksonian says: "Loans, notes and overdrafts to the amount of over $10,000 were charged off, while many of them are known to be as good as gold. County warrants to the amount of $6,000 is listed at face value, and much of it will soon be redeemed at par with the interest added, which amounts to considerable. Additional securities, amounting to over $6,000 have been gathered up within the last few days. The bank building and fixtures is listed at $1,000, when the fixtures alone would be considered cheap at that price. The liabilities are placed at $58,000 in the report, and the bank officials claim the assets will exceed $60,000.

Under the head of "insolvency" in the report the amount is given as $10,000, which, according to our understanding, means that if this amount—in the event it be found correct—was paid in, the depositors would be paid dollar for dollar."

M. McFarland of Columbus, Kas., will preach in the Christian church Monday and Tuesday evening of next week. Mr. McFarland may accept a call from the church at this place.
